

Consumers have lost several rights just because these companies are accepting the new American way..."that's not my job" OR "we don't support that". Everyone one needs expensive extended warranties on everything to be covered 5 seconds after you purchase and then some. If we cannot keep our sanity, please let us keep our privacy. Americans are running out of money and patience. We know the companies are never going to give us money back. So our patience is needed everyday. Please do not get rid of the No Call List. Let us control SOMETHING today.

Thank you for taking the time to read my opinion, hopefully you will see this our way.

Sincerely,

Jessica Durkee
